

Education to Stop Domestic Violence “The Reeva Pack”

The pack aims to empower individuals with the ability to identify and recognise the reality of their circumstances, and assist them to make the necessary changes and seek help.

The World Health Organization statistics show that a third of the world’s population is living in domestically abusive and violent relationships.

EDUCATION PACK TO STOP DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CONTENTS:

1. Booklet (From Domestic Violence Stories to Choice)
 - True stories: woman in relationships of domestic violence to a new life of choice.
2. Twelve point Domestic Relationship Abuse and Violence Indicator list
 - Educational tool of simple identifiers
3. Contact lists of Government and Help Agencies - Safe Houses etc
4. Suitable heartfelt quotes from celebrities
5. Three Early Red Flags

The Foundation will raise funds to distribute the Reeva Pack which will be freely available at public and private facilities which are accessible to the public. These packs will initially be distributed in South Africa, USA, Australia and the U.K, with the ultimate goal to have the innovative packs available world-wide and supply all countries.

Volunteers and community groups can contact the Reeva Rebecca Steenkamp Foundation through our website www.reevasteenkampfoundation.org

This initiative aims to empower victims of abuse to recognise the signs of domestic violence and provide them with support. No reference is, or will be made, on the website or in any literature of any legal or court proceedings surrounding Reeva’s death. The Foundation was established to honour her memory by continuing the work she started.